

CSR Week, APRIL 2022: A Fun Session on "Role Models"

The recently held CSR week was packed with a surfeit of activities. One of the sessions was on students' role models. Here, the students studying in classes VII and VIII were asked to narrate about their role models and explain why they look up to them. The students presented their views beautifully and even dressed up as their role models, surprising the jury. Such gestures and honest efforts made this session a great success and memorable.

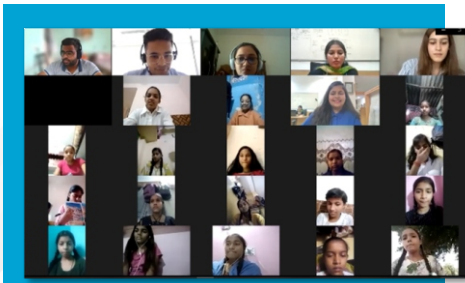

Here is a snapshot of some thoughts shared by the students:

Anjali: Anjali's mother is her role model. She said that her mother was not well educated, yet she inspired Anjali and her younger brother to attend school and prioritize education.

Pooja: Pooja's role model is Martyr Bhagat Singh. She is inspired by the way Bhagat Singh expressed love and commitment to the country at a young age. Bhagat Singh's courageous quality persuades Pooja to become like him one day.

Ayesha: Ayesha's role model is Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam. She believes that Dr. Kalam is a great inspiration for today's youth. According to Ayesha, Dr. Kalam proved that we could achieve anything with our talent and ability to work hard, irrespective of our family backgrounds.

Sonia: Sonia's role model is Raveena Prasad, her NDDP facilitator. Sonia likes Raveena's way of teaching and managing the students. She also shared how Raveena makes difficult topics easy to understand and treats each student like her friend.
